Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

We surmise that the proposed amendment to the Constitution which would give Congress the power to abolish or regulate child labor under the age of 18 years, will eventually be defeated. The fact is, of course, it is not the kind of amendment that the people want. It provides that states surrender their right to meet their own child labor problems in their own way to meet their own conditions. The age limit of 18 years is regarded by many thoughtful persons as being too high.

Under New Deal persuasion several states that years ago voted "no" on this proposed amendment have recently voted "yes." New York the home state of the New Deal, so to speak, has voted it down again. Eleven years has passed since a Republican Congress submitted this measure to the vote of state legislatures, but there seems no present prospect of its being enacted even though the tendency toward centralized federal government was never stronger in the history of the country than now.

We suspect that the opposition to the measure comes mainly from farmers rather than manufacturing concerns, though in the solid south there is no question that cotton weaving interests are bitterly opposed to it. But generally speaking the agricultural regions are reluctant to grant Congress the power this amendment proposes. In general farmers make more use of their children than is possible in other industries. Farm boys help with the chores, from an early age till the time they set up for themselves in farming or migrate to the city. They milk the cows, herd the stock, feed the pigs, help shear the sheep, drive the milk truck. Usually every man who has been brought up on a farm has learned to fend for himself. Generally speaking he is more resourceful, more handy, more aggressive, than youths who have been brought up in the city. As a rule farm boys, and for that matter girls, begin the lessons of life as soon as they are able to toddle. It would be a pity if through some blunder of Congress this training on the farm should be abolished. It would be a national loss.

On the other hand anyone who, in years past, has traveled much in California, has seen little children, under 12 years of age, stooped over endless rows of sugar beets or vegetables, weeding them by hand. Usually they were Japanese, Mexican or Spanish children. The latter reached this coast via the Hawaiian Islands. In California this no longer happens, except when authorities wink at it. The law forbids this child slavery. As California has done, so have many other states. The problem of child labor is slowly, too slowly, being solved by the action of individual states. In a matter of a few years probably, as it should be, it will be a penal offense to employ children for commercial gain or profit, except as parents train them in home duties, or need their assistance in doing chores.

We surmise that if this amendment had put the age limit at 16 instead of 18, this constitutional amendment would have been passed long ago. The 18 year age limit was placed there under the pressure of organized labor, which naturally seeks to make as many jobs as possible for adults. But under the proposed amendment, as a matter of practice, in California at least, where all children up to 16 years of age are compelled to attend school, youth between 16 and 18 years of age could not be profitably employed, unless Congress so ordered or permitted. And a good many states did not wish to leave their youth in this condition. Two years of enforced idleness could easily unfit a large section of American youth for citizenship.

School tests and the tests applied to drafted youth in the world war indicate that a considerable proportion of the nation's boys are mentally below the average. The only hope for these boys to become self-respecting and self-supporting citizens lies in their hands, not their heads. When they have gone as far as they can go in book learning, they should have an opportunity to train their hands, either in vocational schools, or in actual jobs, where they could be, at least, partially self-supporting. Of course, Congress might, were the amendment adopted, be wise enough to make provision for these boys, but a good many states apparently doubted that it would, and voted down the amendment.

Thus, when the President cites the child labor proposal, as an instance of the time it takes to enact an amendment, he chooses the worst possible instance in the history of this country. The average elapsed time for adoption of all constitutional amendments is a little over a year. When the people want a constitutional amendment, they lose little time in adopting it. Witness both Prohibition and its Repeal.

NEW FIRE SIREN MAY CAUSE DEAD TO RISE

Nobody will burn to death in their beds. The new fire siren might even awake the 49ers asleep in Pine Grove. When the siren lets go Grass Valley, Truckee and way points will know that Nevada City has a fire. For the comfort of those who passed a state of unrest Sunday night, it might be reassuring to know that the big whistle has passed every test and every body in the Sierras says it is O. K. The dogs which raised a secondary disturbance whenever the big toot sounds, may sometime get accustomed to it. One pet poodle flew to his mistress arms and dog-sobbed and cried with every blast of the siren, shivering and quaking in between times, but dogs can adapt themselves to cacaphony. What to do with the faithful old bell that summoned our grandsires and granddames and afforded recreation and exercise may be a poser. But when the fire house is at length turned over to the Civic Club and the Native Daughters, and a museum is established, probably the old fire bell will have a pedestal there and a place of honor.

STATE PLAGUED WITH TOO MANY TAXING BOARDS

BERKELEY, March 22.—An exhaustive review of California's state fiscal organization and suggestions as to how it may be improved, have been made by the Bureau of Public Administration of the University of California at the request of a number of members of the present state legislature.

The review points out that there are at least four separate, independent tax collecting agncies within the state government and approximately 5,000 local units of government, each with the power to tax. The state agencies are the Board of Equalization, Franchise Tax Commissioner, State Controller and Department of Motor Vehicles.

Apparent defects in the state's fiscal system are similar to those which suggested a proposed sweeping reorganization of the fiscal system of the federal government, the survey points out. In this respect it says:

"Practically every state in the Union is ahead of California in the matter of tax organization. An integrated, technical competent tax department has been demonstrated repatedly to be the best solution to state tax problems, both for the purpose of raising state funds and for the equalization and collection of local taxes.

"State fiscal organization and procedure—the machinery designed to handle money matters and the operation of that machinery—is one of the most neglected aspects of public finance." To some extent, the survey pointed out, this has been brought about by the refusal of certain courts to allow state boards of equalization to investigate and equalize individual assessments, and the lack of qualified officials for the proper appraisement of property valuations for tax assessment purposes.

The survey was prepared by O. W. Campbell, research assistant in the Bureau of Public Administration.

Instead of the scheduled speeches by the Older Girls' conference delegates Friday in the high school activity period, the student body was entertained by moving pictures of skiing.

The pictures stressed the different types of ski turns and other phases of skiing.

MRS. E. T. BONNER IS PRESIDENT OF P. T. A.

The Washington grammar school P T A held election of officers at its meeting Friday afternoon. The officers as elected are as follows:

President Mrs. E. T. Bonner; vice president, Mrs. W. P. Lee; secretary, Mrs. E. V. Cain; treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Odegaard. The officers will be installed at the next meeting.

The seventh grade won the membership contest. Mrs. L. B. Gregory is the class mother and reported that a party would be given for the seventh grade in the near future.

Several of the little tots from Miss Snell's first and second grades entertained the P. T. A. with recitations which the ladies greatly enjoyed.

NEV. CO. SHARE OF 1936 LIQUOR TAX IS $18,570

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Complete allocation of $2,958,009.26 to cities and counties as their share of liquor license fees collected by the state during 1936 was announced today by the board of equalization.

The allocation represents 50 per cent of the total fees amounting to $5,921,412.22, the state's share of which goes into the general fund.

The board previously had announced totals to be received by unincorporated areas and cities over 20,000 population. Today's announcement includes these allocations and the additional amounts granted all other cities in the state.

On the basis of actual licenses issued, Nevada county will receive a total of $18,570, of which $7,872 will go to the unincorporated areas, $4,443 to Nevada City and $6,254 to Grass Valley.

Payments of the various allocations will be made in the near future officials said.

In calling attention to the substantial amounts allowed many cities and counties, it is suggested it would not be illogical for the local governments to appropriate a part of this income to local liquor law enforcement.

This money is collected entirely by the state and represents income derived exclusively from liquor licenses. Its use, in part at least, for local liquor enforcement would seem to me a reasonable application.

With forty-four incorporated cities within its boundaries, Los Angeles led the list with a total allocationn of $801,313.82. The city and county of San Francisco was second, with $558,548.10. On the other end of the list was Alpine county, having no incorporated cities, and recenving $176.25.

INDEPENDENTS SHOW GAIN IN MERCHANDISING

Independent stores in California outstripped chain stores in volume of sales and total number of stores, for the 12-month period just reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce on the basis of the Census of Business.

The 88,487 independent stores in the state registered a substantial gain in sales over the two years previous, recording a total sales volume of $1,658,580,000 or 71.2 per cent of the total. For the previous similar period the independent stores' percentage was 69.0.

Chain stores, on the other hand, dropped in position from 27.7 per cent to 25.7. Its total sales for 9,172 stores in the state were $597,989,000 or one billion dollars less than the independent stores' sales.

The U. S. Census figures indicate there are nearly ten times as many independent stores as there are chain stores in California. Gains were shown by the independents in every type of store except department stores, shoe stores and furniture stores. Chain stores lost in all except the department, shoe and the furniture stores and slightly in the grocery stores.

HANDBAG ON SIDEWALK HALF DAY STILL THERE WHEN OWNER RETURNS

E. J. O'Brien of the Idaho-Maryland mine, stopped Friday night at the National Hotel. He got into his car in front of Long John's shortly before eight o'clock Saturday morning and went to the mine. He missed his handbag containing all his personal effects, about noon, searched his car, found nothing, and came over to the National Hotel, where the manager was unable to find it. O'Brien looked down the street and there it was on the sidewalk in front of Long John's Tavern, just where he left it, when he got into his car. "You have a good, honest town," said O'Brien. "You ought to be proud of Nevada City."

NEW MACHINE SHOP FOR FOREST SERVICE

The Tahoe National Forest, which has headquarters in Nevada City has started building a new machine shop on Commercial street. Its dimensions will be 85 by 32 feet. The new building will have three pits and overhead crane, besides many other conveniences.

The forest service purchased ground last year that has enlarged their yard until it extends from Commercial to Cottage street. Excavating removed many yards of earth which gives room for more buildings and added yard space.

MASONIC RITES ARE HELD FOR LACY JONES SUN.

The funeral of the late Lacy Jones who passed away suddenly at his home Friday afternoon was held at 2 o'clock yesterday at the Masonic Hall in Nevada City with the officers of Nevada Lodge, No. 13, F. & A. M. conducting the services.

Pall bearers were John Darke, Otto Schiffner, O. McCraney and James Penrose The body was shipped to Oakland today by the W. R. Jefford Funeral Home for cremation.

The passing of Lacy Jones, 47 years of age was a great shock to his family and friends. Death was due to heart trouble to which he had been subject for some time.

His son Lacy Jones, Jr, stated that his father complained of a pain in his chest Friday morning when he arose but thought he would be all right in a little while. So he, Lacy Jr. left for school. Mrs. Jones had been in San Francisco for some time and father and son were home alone.

When the son returned from school Friday afternoon he was shocked and tsunned to find his father dead. He had apparently passed away several hours before as he sat in a chair.

Deceased was a skilled millman and came to this section about 1927 to operate the Gaston mill during the time that mine was operated by Otto E. Schiffner. After the mine closed down he was employed in other mills of the district. His ability as a mill man enabled him to obtain employment readily.

He was a most devoted father and husband and a man who had many friends.

He was a member of Nevada Lodge No. 13, F. & A. M. having served as Worshipful Master of the lodge several years ago. He became a member of the lodge by demit from Montezuma Lodge of Goldfield, Nevada. He was also a member of the Elks Lodge in that place.

Mrs. Jones was immediately notified in San Francisco and arrived in Nevada City Saturday morning.

Deputy Coroner Howard Edwards of the W. R. Jefford and Son were notified and the body was taken to the W. R. Jefford Funeral Home which had charge of funeral arrangements.

In addition to his wife and son who reside at the family home south of the city, Mr. Jones is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Cohn of Carson City, Nevada; Mr. William Hogan of San Jose and Mrs. Harriett Rich of Berkeley, sisters and one brother R. N. Jones of Weed.

Miners League Names New Committee; Wage Offer Not Rejected

At the meeting of the Mine Workers Protective League yesterday, a question of the constitutionality of the appointment of the committee, named to negotiate with the mine owners for better working conditions and higher wages, was raised because the executives of the league named on the committee had not been nominated and elected from the membership according to the league's by-laws.

Owing to this irregularity the report brought in by the committee containing the results of the negotiations with mine owners and managers was discarded and a new committee was elected. Ten men were nominated from the floor and of these five were chosen to carry on further negotiations with the mine owners.

The 5 men chosen were E. Jones, Phil Oates, Jim Moore, Judge Hewar, and Hugh Williams.

The action of the former meeting, which had approved the appointment of the league's executives to negotiate with the mine owners was rescinded.

The offer of the mine owners and managers, consisting of 50 cents more wages per day for miners and muckers, was not rejected. The league has this offer still under consideration and has given the new committee authority to conduct further ngotiations and report back to the league.

Approximately 800 men attended the meeting of the league yesterday.

CIVIC CLUB TO DISCUSS TONIGHT BIG CARD PARTY

The Women's Civic club, it was announced today will postpone its program meeting in which Miss Gertrude Goyne and Mrs. Raglan Tuttle were to participate, until fairer weather. The meeting tonight will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Nye and will be for the purpose of making final plans for the big card party which will be held in the near future.

PONEMAH COUNCIL WILL PARTICIPATE IN RALLY

Wyoming Tribe of Red Men and Ponemah Council, degree of Pocahontas, will attend a convention of tribes and councils in Roseville May first. For this big rally Ponemah Council team has been selected from the nine councils and invited to exemplify the adoption degree. They have accepted the invitation which is considered quite an honor. There are 18 members in the team. Plans are to take down a number of palefaces for adoption.

The Red Men will also enjoy a big celebration in Roseville the same evening.

Minneopa Tribe of Lolomi Council of Roseville will entertain the seven tribes and eight visiting councils.

POWER LINES REPAIRED

Dan C. Stewart, district manager of the P. G. & E. company, stated that while the Sunday snow storm had disrupted service for a good many lines, everything would be in shape by this evening. Crews have been busy repairing broken wires and in many places pulled from their fastenings by broken branches and even large limbs of trees, about the city and outlying sections.

TO SAIL ON COOLIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wright and two children of San Francisco spent the week end in Nevada City visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burr. The snow storm cut their visit short and they returned home Sunday evening. Mr. Wright sails on the President Coolidge on the 25th. It was the Coolidge that rammed the Frank H. Buck in the Golden Gate entrance about two weeks ago. Over the radio this morning it was stated the Buck had broken in two dropping into the sea and salvagers had given up the task of saving a portion of the big ship.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolly of Truckee arrested Lloyd Marr, alleged bad check artist, Sunday and brought him to the county jail at Nevada City today.

Mrs. Clyde Burnett is spending a few days in Sacramento visiting her sister and infant son who is the first nephew in the family.

Heinie Rothe, of the Tahoe National Forest, has just returned from a trip to Oakland.

SPRING BEGINS WITH SUNSHINE AND SNOW

Snow started falling early yesterday morning and by night about eight inches lay on the ground. City crews worked with snow equipment until four o'clock this morning clearing the streets of snow for traffic, in fact Street Superintendent Herbert Hallett was out until five this morning.

Power lines went on and off over the city and street lights were off during the night. Power went off at the Lava Cap mine south of Nevada City at 12 o'clock remaining off until two o'clock. At about two o'clock power went off at the Murchie mine and miners were not able to work that shift. There is about a foot of snow at the Lava Cap mine and two feet on the top of the hill. About 14 inches of snow lay on the ground at the Murchie mine. The tractor at the Lava Cap mine was driven over the roads all night clearing away snow.

The sudden storm also put out the telephone communications about the city and outlying sections.

P. G. & E. crews are out on the lines making repairs as rapidly as possible.

New snow was so deep at Washington east of Nevada City that E. J. Haverstock, mail carrier, drove his tractor to the Junction of the Washington and Tahoe Ukiah highways and walked with his mail bags to the CCC camp several miles to the west. He caught a ride to Nevada City from there.

At the CCC camp about three feet of new snow has fallen piling it up on 2 feet of hard packed snow from the previous storms.

Limbs of all sizes from practically whole tops of trees to small branches are broke off about Nevada City and suburbs. Many persons went out several times during the day and last night to shake off the snow. It is estimated quite a lot of damage has been done to apple and peach trees. Heavy wet snow froze last night creating a fairyland of beauty as the sun rose this morning. The warm sun shine caused clouds of the fluffy snow to start falling this morning.

At time of going to press the Graniteville and Alleghany stages were unreported. They are supposed to reach Nevada City at about one o'clock.

SUPERVISOR CUTS WOOD IN THE STREET

Supervisor Cary S. Arbogast had to cut wood on Park avenue this forenoon! Immense limbs were broken by snow from a walnut tree in front of the old Marsh home, blocking the sidewalk. Ed Martine and Lou Elkus assisted him. Threats that Chief of Police Garfield Robson would arrest them for cutting wood in the city limits without a license got the work done in a hurry.

Harry Jefferson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jefferson, spent last week end at his home in Nevada City. He is a senior at University of California, and deeply interested in the R. O. T. C. of the school.

A Splash of Color

'Round the Horn, in the memorable summer of 1849, came Levi Altshuler, a run-away lad from Germany, to blaz-on his mark on the pages of California history, Last week, 108 years old, he gave up the battle against the years and went home—one of the last of the '49'ers, answering the final roll-call.

But Levi Altshuler's curious career is a splash of color that will never fade, so long as the roaring, heavy-booted days of gold shall endure in the hearts of an nadventurous people. For Levi Altshuler, with a flair for color and a shrewd sense of spectacular merchandising, costumed California '49'ers—and made them what they are today, red shirts and all! Other men, to be sure, were merchants in the days of '49, but Levi Alt-shuler's colors were warmer; his boots stronger; and the lit-tle shop of "the red shirt", on San Francisco's waterfront, prospered, and gave a dash of red to the gold fields of Cali-fornia.

Perhaps somewhere in California's Hall of Fame, there'll be a niche for the man who added color to the most colorful era in California's history.

The Stork Flies High

Despite the fact that a learned professor recently charac-terized "the stork myth" as an outrageous and scandalous bit of medieval mummery, the stork still flies high! Marking up a 5 per cent increase, according to the State Department of Public Health, the year 1936 brought 84,460 new arrivals to California, via the stork special. Los Angeles county, first in line, reported 32,027 births. Alpine county, to be different, reported none.

Easter Parade

Too little note is taken of men in the Easter Parade.

Many a man on Easter morn, has decked himself out in full masculine elegance, and propertly complemented by an apparition of loveliness on his arm, stepped out upon the ave-nue—only to find the apparition stole the show completely!

Year after year man has continued to do his sartorial best for the occasion, and year after year succeeded in serving only as background for an admittedly lovely feminine picture.

Now his hopes are completely and finally blasted. An English gentleman named Tyeffort—and doesn't that sound like he ought to know about such things? announces that un-less a man spends at least $4,000 a year on his wardrobe, he can't possibly be rigged out like a gentleman!

Oh, well. We can still bowl and golf and even watch the feminine Easter Parade from the sidelines, without benefit of boutonniere and spats.

VALLEJO FERRY GIVES MOTORIST BETTER SERVICE

It was recently announced in the columns of this paper reductions by the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries Ltd. of fares on the ferry lines between San Francisco and Vallejo. The ferry company now announces an increase in the number of daily boat trips. Effective March 24, 1937, the boats will leave Vallejo at:

7:15 a. m., 10:00 a. m., 3:45 p. m., 6:30 p. m., 9:00 p. m., and 11:30 p. m.

The boats will leave the ferry terminal at the north end of the Ferry Building, San Francisco at:

7:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 3:45 p. m., 6:30 p. m., 9:0 p. m., and 11:30 p. m.

The trip between San Francisco and Vallejo is an interesting one and there are no other ferries on the bay from which so many points of interest may be viewed.

The increased schedule and the new fares make the Vallejo line the cheapest route to and from San Francisco, whether driving to Vallejo and taking the ferry as a foot passenger or taking the automobile along. The fare for foot passengers is 75c round trip. Children five to twelve years of age, 50c round trip. Fare for automobile and driver is $1.00 and 15c each for not exceeding four passengers.

'HELP YOURSELF' COMEDY OFFERED ON S. F. STAGE

By THOMAS O'BRIEN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—If Federal Theatres are really trying to reestablish the spoken drama via road shows which are to be taken to smaller communities throughout the land, they have made an ausnicious start by sending out the "Help Yourself" company which opened a brief two weeks engagement at the Columbia Monday night.

In the parlance of the advance agent the show really is a "wow" and as such was accorded a demonstrative reception by the usual packed house on San Francisco first nights.

An amazing situation is quickly evolved with the rise of the curtain on the first act, a situation so startlingly ridiculous that it took the auidence several minutes to realize that they were witnessing one of the cleverest farce comedies that has come this way in many moons. With realization however the fun began and through three acts of unusually clean cut characterizations, hilarious situations and ever present possibilities of a romance between a down-and-outer and a banker's daughter, this he-cinderella composition wins the palm for good entertainment up to this point of 1937.

The touring company comes to San Francisco after a series of successful performances in many towns along the road from San Francisco and after a five weeks run in Los Angeles. The three principal parts are played by Paul Reyner, college man looking for a job; Peter Brocco, former room mate at college of Teynner's who has a job in a bank, and Carroll Borland, the banker's daughter. Mr. Reyner, in need of a job, walks into a bank, hangs up his hat and coat and helps himself to work with delightful cheek and some success. The entire company of seventeen render a good account of the parts assigned them.

FIESTA TO MARK OPENING OF GATE SPAN, MAY 27

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—It won't be long now before motorists traveling between San Francisco and the counties of the picturesque Redwood Empire will roll swiftly and smoothly across the world's longest single span.

Construction of the Golden Gate Bridge is fast nearing completion. And highway engineers, both state and city, assure motorists that the approaches to the bridge will be ready for the bridge opening.

All over the western continent and particularly among our neighbors in Canada, British Columbia, Mexico, Guatamala and San Salvador, there is manifest the keenest interest in the Golden Gate Bridge, for the bridge breaks that last major water barrier for an all-coast highway.

Evidence of this newly awakened interest has been piling up for weeks in the offces of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta which will be held from May 27 to June 2.

The festival group has invited their neighboring countries to participate in the celebration commenorating the bridge opening, and active participation nf Mexico, British Columbia and Canada is already assured.

For variety and splendor of entertainment, the Fiesta promises to excel anything ever seen in the west.

Nearby, of course, the counties of the Redwood Empire are thrilled that the dream of years, the day they have so long awaited, is at hand, when they will have an all-wheel approach to the metropolis, and city folks have swifter all-highway to their delightful country.

Counties of the Redwood Empire joined forces with San Francisco in financing the $35,000,000 span and their representatives are members of the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

In recent years, more than $40,-000,000 has been spent to make the Redwood Empire System of highways modern in alignment, grade, width and surface.

Nine counties make up the Empire eight in California and one, Joseph-ine county, in Oregon, with San Francisco as one of the trail and Grant's Pass at the other.

BANK OF AMER. REPORTS GAIN IN FEB. BUSINESS

California business scored substan-tial gains in February over the cor-responding period of 1936, accord-ing to the current issue of the Bank of America Business Review.

The February index of prices re-ceived by California agriculturists for 24 principal farm commodities advanced to 143 per cent of the 1910-1915 average, a new high since 1930. The gain for February over the preceding month was 16.3 per cent, the largest in any month since 1910.

Employment and payrolls in Cali-fornia manufacturing industries continued to mount in February, em-ployment showing an increase of 15.7 per cent over the same month of last year while payrolls and earn-ings were up 28.9 per cent and 11.5 per cent, respectively. By compari-son with the preceding month, em-ployment, weekly payrolls and em-ploye earnings gained 4.8 per cent, 7.8 per cent and 2.8 per cent, re-spectively.

February bank debits for fifteen cities in California averaged 13.2 per cent higher than in the corresp-onding month last year but were 1.2 per cent below those of January.

Building and construction in 32 cities, although 8.2 per cent lower in February than in the preciding month, were 13.9 per cent ahead of February, 1936.

Revenue freight carloadings in California increased 14.8 per cent in February over the corresponding month last year but were 4.2 per cent below the January total. Figur-es for the first two months of this years, however, were 14.1 per cent above those for the 1936 period.

GOOD SERVICE COSTS NO MORE

A modern establishment—a trained, intelligent and courteous personnel—distinctive motor equipment and other evidences of progress and prosperity are NOT an indication that funeral service charges will be high. A successful concern can be built only by serv-ing honestly and well, at prices that are fair and reasonable.

Mrs. A. M. Holmes and Mrs. Herbert Roentgen of Glenbrook Heights entertained at a pottery shower for Miss Christy Jane Holmes in the Roentgen home last Friday evening.

After a delightful time at bridge dainty refreshments were served. A profusion of spring flowers were used in decorations in the cosy home. Prizes at cards were awarded to Mrs. Beth Wilson, Mrs. Bernice Deward and Mrs. Marjorie Riley.

Miss Holmes, attractive young daughter of A. M. Holmes, will marry John Bertino of Grass Valley next month.

Present for the happy occasion were Mesdames. Lea Pengelly, Greba Terrell, Harriett Twitchell, Beth Wilson, Reita Dennis, Bernice Deward, Esther Abraham, Thelma Sahl, Marjorie Riley, Miss Holmes and two hostesses.

Women's Club Meets in Camptonville

CAMPTONVILLE, March 22. — The Camptonville Women's club held a meeting a few evenings ago at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Pfiffer on Jackson street. It was the first meeting of the year. Activities of the coming year were talked over. Owing to the illness and inclement weather, there was not a very large atendance. After the meeting delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Ernest Towle is Neighborly Club Hostess

The Neighborly Club of Harmony Ridge met Thursday for lurheon at the home of their newly elerted president. Mrs. Ernest Towle. Pussy-willows and yellow primroses in blue bowls were used effehtively in the dining room, and Easter favors marked the places. A surprise gift for the retiring president, Mrs. Kenneth Arbogast, was a dainty sandwich tray.

At the last meeting there had been a general discussion of recent novels and at this time Mrs. Wm. L. Davies gave an interesting book review of "Mamba's Daughters" by DuBose Heyward, a Literary Guild publication, depicting present day life in Charleston. This book was accepted as reading, by the club for the ensuing month. Before the afternoon was over, Mrs. Towle as president called a brief business meeting. Mrs. Leon L. Larrahee was welcomed as a new member.

This meeting marked the first anniversary of the club's formal organization and it was a happy coincidence that a certificate of membership to the country Gentlwoman Lague had just been received.

Just Wondering

I wonder when the welkin rings
And why March hares are mad,
I wonder how to bell the cat
And why caged beasts go bad;
Why do things grow by leaps and bounds
Or else by fits and starts?
Why do they often fly sky high—
Assembled or in parts?

I wonder how many quaint idioms clinging tenaciously to our mother tongue were, in times past, regarded as slang of the day.

I wonder if we can teach the solons now gathered in enigmatic conclave under the dome of the capitol in fair interior California, that a polluted stream is vastly different from one which is simply roiled; roiled is a good word; it should be restored to our vocabularies and used oftener.

I wonder why biblical lore contains no references to female angels; can it be that lady wraiths cannot wear wings and halos becomingly? Perish the very idea!

I wonder if it is safe to invite visiting friends to sit down during this epidemic of restful strikes.

I wonder how to thank the astute astrologer who discoverer that the constellation under which I was destined to be born, live and move was blown up and whiffed into nothingness at least an eon before my time; that eerie, void above my head accounts for many things about which I've been wonderin'. Still it's rather awful, to lose one's constellation.

I wonder if a certain famous phrase might be amended to read; every man is entitled to life if he can sustain it, liberty if he can maintain it, and happiness if he can obtain it.

I wonder if biographers could be induced to shorten their human interest tales; produce thin volumes which one could read at a sitting; I submit the following as a working model.

Socrates asked questions, drank hemlock and died.

I wonder if it's true that a display of fine artistic temperment is in reality just an exposure of crude, pure cussedness.

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

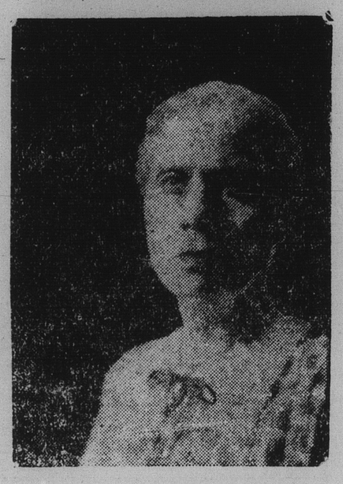
RIDGE TROUBADOUR



KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE

MT. SHASTA

By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE

O! Queen of Cascade's placid mountains high!
Majestic ruler; virgin so sublime
Your beauty lives, and draws me always nigh
To you, each year of my alloted time.

Your crown of snow and wreathing clouds of white,
Reflecting golden beams from turquoise skies
Are queenly robes, round draped your form so light
Enfold, enhance your beauty for my eyes.

Your palace stands beneath a court of stars,
Where ghostly Kinks or dim-seen Milky Way
The Princess loves, who dwells on ruddy Mars;
And where the silver crescent hangs by day.

Why do you reign in regal splendor long,
And dream alone among your sister peaks—
Content to dwell where icy winds are strong,
Content with powdered sleet upon your cheek?

I study deep and marvel at your strength.
It rests my weary mind as I do tire
And kneel by you, to beg for crumbs of strength,
That you may guide me safely through the mire.

Within your realm, so soothing and so cool,
A balm lies sweet to press my fevered brow;
Content as I to be just Nature's fool,
And never question Wonders then nor now.
